

Housing Authority Management Group

Network. Exchange. Innovate.

In a challenging economic environment, effective public service depends on efficient housing programs, operations, and back-office administrative functions, including human resources, information technology, payroll, finance and accounting.

The Housing Authority Management Group is a professional membership group made up of representatives from leading Public Housing Authorities who understand the importance of reducing costs and increasing productivity.

The Group's membership is limited to senior level management who are directly responsible for the strategic oversight of their agencies' administrative or operational functions. The Group's mission is to help Chief Administrative Officers, Deputy Executive Directors and other leaders with similar roles within Public Housing Authorities (PHAs) come together and share ideas in an atmosphere of candor and confidentiality.

The Housing Authority Management Group will explore the latest methods and techniques for overcoming obstacles to efficiency, by employing bi-monthly educational webinars, networking and career development events, a private online forum for idea exchange, and other peer-advisory opportunities.

Human Capital Initiatives (HCi) launched the Housing Authority Management Group at the request of several housing authority clients. HCi will provide organizational support as well as information and advice regarding best practices and industry trends. The annual membership fee of $650 will cover administrative costs of the group.
